I had an oil burner fuel spill and the smell of No#2 fuel was all over my home, the oil company found the leak and repaired it, but the smell of the oil fumes still remained, they try masking it with a powder that gave a smell of cherry. But cherry and oil didn't make it smell any better. So I used the internet and found VaporRemed and order it by phone within 24 hours it was at my door step, I used it and within minutes it began to work the smell of oil fumes were beginning to go away and within 24 hours you could no longer smell that there was an oil spill problem, it really worked it didn't mask it. The product did what it said it would do, I also spray it on our carpets and sofa to see if it worked in getting the oil fume smell out and it did. I would recommend this product to all the fuel oil companies here on Long Island Its quick and safe, and saved me a lot of money.
